How to Play Sudoku

Sudoku is a logic puzzle where you fill the grid so each row, column, and box contains the numbers 1 through N exactly once.

All puzzles have exactly one solution and can be solved without guessing.

Rules:

1. Row Constraint: Each row must contain the numbers 1 through N exactly once, where N is the grid size.
2. Column Constraint: Each column must contain the numbers 1 through N exactly once.
3. Box Constraint: Each outlined box (e.g. 3×3 in standard 9×9 Sudoku) must contain the numbers 1 through N exactly once.

How to Solve:

- Given numbers (clues) cannot be changed
- Fill empty cells with digits 1–N so that every row, column, and box satisfies the rules
- Use logic and elimination; no guessing required

Example:

In a 9×9 Sudoku, each row, each column, and each 3×3 box must contain the digits 1–9 exactly once. Use the given clues and the row/column/box constraints to deduce the missing numbers.
